

ANSI MH30.2

Portable Dock Leveling Devices: Safety, Performance and Testing

This standard defines safety, performance, and testing requirements for the design, use, and maintenance of portable dock leveling devices. The purpose of this standard is to provide a uniform means of comparison, improve user confidence and knowledge, and define safety requirements for portable dock leveling devices.